

bp Marine re-establishes barge bunkering in Auckland, New Zealand.

bp Marine is proud to announce it will be re-entering the Auckland bunker market, supplying Marpol compliant VLSFO and MGO fuels by barge, to its customers visiting Auckland. bp Marine will be utilizing the "Awanuia" and working with Seafuels to once again provide a safe, reliable and high quality barge bunkering service for customers visiting New Zealand and will once again be supplying VLSFO in the New Zealand market.

bp Marine's newest barge service will add to its existing network across Australia and New Zealand and will be focused on delivering quality imported VLSFO to the market.

Safety and Quality Products are our focus

Safely and consistently delivering on-specification products to our customers in full and on time, consistently throughout our port network is at the core of our business. We conduct stringent product testing during the manufacturing and delivery process to ensure all of our products meet the ISO 8217 requirements.

Customer Commitment

bp Marine's commitment to our customers is a simple one: to consistently deliver quality products with outstanding levels of service throughout our network of strategically based ports in Australia and New Zealand and around the world.

We are continuously improving our execution of the essentials that your business depends upon and providing value added services.

For your next fuel requirement in Auckland, please contact your local bp Marine representative or email the team at BPMarineANZ@bp.com

Another outstanding bp bunkering operation servicing New Zealand.